Release Liability

Our number one goal at Simple Moves is to move all of your belongings from one place to another as safely and as efficiently as possible. At times we are asked to move or do things that no matter what precautions we take, the risk of certain items getting damaged is more likely. We unfortunately are not and cannot be responsible for these items. The items that we are referring to are listed below. We ask you to initial next to the items and then sign at the bottom. Simple Moves will still take all possible precautions to make sure all of your items are moved as safely as possible.

Storage:

Once we have finished loading your storage unit for you, we no longer take responsibility for any of the items that are in the storage unit.

If we are unloading your storage unit, we are only responsible for the items that are in our immediate care.

Initial _____

Loads and Unloads:

On loads and unloads, we are only there for half of the move, (loading or unloading). If we are loading or unloading a truck or vehicle for you, we are only responsible for the items that are in our immediate care.

Absent Customer:

We encourage our customers to be with us through out the entire move. Whenever we move a piece of furniture we like to be able to point out any scratches, marks, or dings that you may not have noticed. If for some reason you are not able to be there for your move or if you need to leave in the middle of the move, we need you to sign a release accepting all of the items in the condition that we bring them to you. We will not be responsible for any missing items, or damaged items. We will not be responsible for any of your items that were not moved.

Initial _____

Particle Board:

Particle board furniture was not made to be moved as one piece. If we feel that your particle board item has a high chance of getting damaged due to weakness, flaws or instability it will be necessary to have it disassembled. If you would like Simple Moves to take it apart or to move it as a whole, you will need to sign a release.

Initial _____

Appliances:

Please remember that we are movers, and we do not have the proper training to connect and disconnect appliances and electronics. From time to time if we feel we can connect or disconnect one or more of your items safely, we would be happy to do so. If by chance the items were not connected or disconnected properly we will claim no responsibility.

Initial _____

Truck Parking:

We will always find the closest and safest parking spot to load and unload your items. If you would like to tell the movers to park somewhere other than where they had planned, you will need to sign a release. We will not be responsible for any lawn, shrubs, trees, underground water systems, or anything else that may get damaged due to parking somewhere at the customer's request. If our truck gets stuck, you will be responsible for any towing or other charges that result from that, and any down time.
